EB's New Online Services

NEW SYSTEM

It is no surprise, after last year's announcement, that our new system is just about ready.

It is currently undergoing final running tests since October, and we envisage having the system up and running within the next few months, albeit, slightly delayed, however, we needed to ensure that it works perfectly before coming on line.

This system will make a huge difference and improvement in the EB's backend interactive system, which will lead to a perfect data analysis and communication with all our clients.

Respect for people is my main attribute and being loyal to my boss. I teach in my spare time, the art of Asian cooking and Arabian authentic food.

I also have a popular food blog, and do foodie tours all over the world. Meditation is one of the key points in my life, and the most important thing is to make people laugh.

GENERAL THANKS

OUR PRINTER

Special thanks to Meytal from Nabari Print. They have been working closely with The Butler over the past 6 years in creating and printing everything from reading materials to the EB's range of accessories. Meytal is an experienced graphic designer and with her direction, made it that easier for The Butler to get his very specific wishes fulfilled.

DROP OFF POINT

Thanks to Yonni and Gal for being a drop off point for the Clients and Butlers alike, especially when the office is unmanned.

OUR OLD WEBMASTER

Another big Thank You to Jonathan Marshall, who has been working with The Butler for the past 10 years, putting up with all the stresses and craziness of the Butler in creating the website and all IT Assistance.

OUR DRIVERS

Over the past 6 years, Executive Butlers have built up a group of 7 cab drivers, who assist us all to get around the country, as well as provide transport for its clientele, both in Tel Aviv and Jerusalem.

We have all vehicles ranging from Skoda to Mercedes Benz, and also provide transport for larger groups, anything from 8 to 20 people. We also have the use of a super stretch limousine for those special occasions. The drivers in Jerusalem, Ashraf, Sala and Moshe, started with the Butler when he was based in Jerusalem, from the start of the Concept in 2010.

Also thanks to Kay, Avi and Liron, who work in the evenings and weekends, as they transport everyone at times when most people are either sleeping or enjoying themselves.

A special thanks to Adi and Yossi, who has been with us for the past 5 years and are always there, on call, to collect and take Clientele and Personnel, all over the country.

Adi has become a close friend of the Butler, and has developed the patience to deal with all the major stresses, which keep Executive Butlers running efficiently and speedily.

All our drivers are also experienced Tour Guides and handle all airport transfers.

MEDICAL

Moving on to Dr. Michael Cohen, an on-call specialist. He provides home visits and consultations from a huge range of medical services.

The Butler's choice to add Dr. Cohen, was based on his vast experience of many years in the medical world as well as with the international clients.

SPECIAL THANKS

Through listening and learning from its clientele and Personnel, EB has grown and evolved to what it is, today.

The new system could not have become a reality without the basic system, which was built through Google Docs. A special Thank You to Matthew Bennet, who was instrumental in working with The Butler and creating such an interactive system, which has made it easier for our clients to keep tabs on their homes and to communicate with EB and its Butlers.

There are some clients, whom for confidentiality reasons we cannot name, have given EB direction, to ensure that the Service is kept to a certain level and we thank them very much for this, again we listen, we learn and we are proactive.

Lastly, to all the guys, «past and present», in the crazy gang - a very big Thank you for all the hard work over the last year and putting up with The Butler's pedantic way of work. Without your efforts and loyal work, EB would not be where it is today.
